4:06 PM Karen: Did you talk to the insurance company about my payment?
11 minutes

4:17 PM me: no, will do so right now though 5 minutes

4:23 PM me: they say it's posted and that I'm good to go
10 minutes

4:34 PM Karen: OK, good, thanks. Happy New year, are you staying in or going out?
me: staying in, gonna revise a couple chapters and finish up the last of them Karen: Good! Talk later, I love you.

4:35 PM me: love you too, happy new year, have fun
25 minutes

5:00 PM Karen: Did you get a deposit for $1000 from Dad?

5:01 PM me: not yet, he's out of town, said he would call me yesterday but didn't 5:02 PM Karen: Well, you have a deposit made for $1000. It's shows "not available" yet, so please don't overdraw. Your available balance is only $16.

me: okay-dokey Karen: Maybe he deposited without your asking? That would be a first :) Plus, I thought he was cutting off in December?

5:03 PM me: no idea

5:04 PM I think he was impressed with the magazine project based on the phone calls I had to take at dinner he understands putting deals together more than he does writing books Karen: What magazine project?
me: the magazine that we're running out of our house
scallywag

5:05 PM Karen: everytime I try to pull up that site, it won't let me. You can see the home page, but a message comes up saying my internet explorer will not access.
me: you need to not be using internet explorer anyway download firefox and don't use IE at all

5:06 PM for one thing, it's prone to viruses and spyware Karen: OK will do. me: or Google Chrome actually, get Chrome Karen: how do I get it and use it? Never mind, will research later.
me: just google "Google Chrome"

5:07 PM it's extraordinarily easy, you'll click three buttons and then when it asks you to make it the default browser say yes
